IN THE NICKNAME OF TIME

Thank you so much for making "Calvin and Jobs." I used to love Calvin and Hobbes and I loved the parody you guys did. I also like how you did the same thing with Cathy and Amy Winehouse. Why wasn't The Strip Club in last month's issue? It's one of the best parts of the magazine. And where did Bitterman go? P.S. Don't make fun of my name with Gryffindor because that isn't that original.

Griffin Benzel, letters@madmagazine.com

Gryffindor — We never claimed we were original. Thanks for reading! —Ed.

MAKE A DUMB WISH FOUNDATION™

There is a long story behind this note card. My aunt gave them to me when she saw my Bar Mitzvah thank you notes. I tried not to choke from laughing and throwing up at the same time. So for my dumb wish, I would like you to publish the front of this note card, but somehow vandalized.

Andrew Rybczynski, Baltimore, MD

Rybe — At the MAKE A DUMB WISH FOUNDATION™, we're all about making readers wishes come true. But in your case, how can we possibly mess with perfection and vandalize such an impeccable work of art? We would be doing Red Farm Studios (the makers of this card) a disservice. Please thank your aunt for us, because the only thing that needs changing is your attitude! Congratulations on becoming a man! —Ed.

BUBBA AND BRENNER

READER ALERT

Election Day is coming up, which means Alfred E. Neuman needs as much help as possible if he's going to lose in style. So we're asking you, dear readers, to take the poster in this very issue and hang it in a store window, on a telephone pole, even at the voting booths. Take a picture of your handiwork and we'll print the best ones in an upcoming issue. Remember, if we all work together, we can secure an Alfred victory and America can have its dumbest President yet! (Well, second dumbest!) Send pics to letters@madmagazine.com or via snail mail to Amy "The Big Poster" Vozeolas, c/o MAD Magazine, 1700 Broadway, NY, NY 10019.

TURNING DAUGHTER INTO WHINE

I just wanted to ask the powers that be if they have any insight into what has happened to my 11-year-old daughter? My daughter stayed three weeks during the summer with her cousin in hotter-than-hell Phoenix, Arizona. Anyway, when I arrived at the airport to pick her up, I did not recognize her right away because she had a short bob with bright purple streaks in her hair, she wore all black with black skinny jeans, black slip-ons, black nail polish, black bag and a MAD magazine under her arm (and an apathetic, sarcastic attitude to boot)! I wanted to blame her aunt and cousin at first, but upon further in-depth inspection of said magazine, I have come to the conclusion that they are not entirely responsible.

Christina Collins, Vista, CA

Collinoscopy — She's dressed all in black and reading MAD? Sounds like she's mourning the death of her good taste! —Ed.

THE SOAK'S ON YOU

Earlier, when I was getting out of my bath, I almost spilled water on my new issue of MAD! It was so close that I now do not read my MAD in the tub anymore. I cannot take the risk of it getting wet.

GESTURE AVERAGE READER

I am a sixth-grade student at Brentwood Elementary School in Spokane, WA. My teacher told us to write to our absolute favorite business. So, naturally I chose you. The first time I read one of your issues I thought I would die laughing. Please, if it is not an inconvenience, I would appreciate a small token from your incomparable organization to prove to my teacher and classmates that you are the best company on the face of the Earth. Please accept my apology for taking up your most valuable time and thank you in advance for anything you might send my way.

An important message from MAD's Director of Business & Development,

JEFFREY LOZENGE

It was once said, "Don't shoot until you see the whites of their eyes." It was also once said, "Don't shoot!" And it was also once said, "Please pass the chicken gravy."

My point is that people say a lot of things. And I say a lot of things too, for example, everything I just said. Which brings me to MAD — yes, MAD — the magazine whose time is and was and continues to be — also says a lot of things. But the less said about that the better.

Someone else who wasn't me once said, "Give me liberty or give me death." Whoa Nellie! (This is me talking again, not that other guy who wasn't me.) Who wouldn't choose liberty over death? That's a no-brainer!

"Give me liberty or give me MAD!" That's a tougher one. But thanks to the brave soldiers of the American Revolution you don't have to decide!

QUESTIONS YOU MAY HEAR DURING THE VICE PRESIDENTIAL DEBATES

If elected, you wouldn't actually root for the President to die, would you?

What kind of Vice President will you be: evil like Dick Cheney, something like Dan Quigley, or boring like Al Gore?

If there's one thing you'd like to tell back of our viewers, what would it be?

Who's on your short list for Vice President when you run in 2016?

Is your spouse prepared to take over the duty of leading White House tours?

Gov. Palin, you were in a group that favored Alaskan secession. What are your views on kicking New Jersey out of the Union?

Tell me, Gov. Palin: McCain's just playing a prank, right?

Were you anxiously awaiting word of whether or not you were the pick, or were you like the rest of America?

What would you do in Iraq if...uh, forget it. It's not like you'll be in a position of power.

THE "REAL" REASONS Harry Potter and the Half Blood Prince WAS DEAD

- Waiting for As I Am to deliver the soundtrack was a huge mistake.
- Cheese made wands give half the cast lead poisoning.
- They ran out of film, because in 2008, almost all available film stock was commandeered for getting shots of Angelina and Brad's twins.
- If the film had come out in 2008, all the commercials featuring a powerful, virility leader would have been misinterpreted as McCain campaign ads.
- Contact negotiations with the Onion Union broke down.

ADVANTAGES AND DISADVANTAGES OF HIGH DEF TV

ADVANTAGE

When watching Blake Lively on Gossip Girl you can tell when they're keeping the show's set just a little too cold — if you know what we mean.

DISADVANTAGE

When watching Bill O'Reilly you can see that the pancake makeup doesn't quite cover the '666' birthmark on his forehead.

ADVANTAGE

Grey's Anatomy in high def is so detailed, people without medical insurance can learn how to perform their own surgery!

DISADVANTAGE

When watching America's Next Top Model you can see the thin line of dried-up vomit around the mouths of several models.

DISADVANTAGE

24 becomes REALLY unbelievable when you can clearly see that Jack Bauer doesn't have a single scar after 5 years of being shot, blown up, beat up and run over!

ADVANTAGE

When you watch Extreme Makeover: Home Edition you won't feel bad about your own screwed-up home improvements — now that you can see the sloppy paint jobs, cracked ceilings, and crooked nails from Ty Pennington trying to rebuild an entire home in just 5 days.

MAD

Hey, look! At the big press conference to reveal Battyman's true identity, we've got 100 reporters, 100 cops, 100 politicians, and for no apparent reason, bajillionaire Bruce Whine! There's nothing suspicious about that!

This is a Battyman press conference? Phooey! I assumed it was yet another elected official admitting that they're gay!

Remember, the night is darkest just before the dawn! The only thing to fear is fear itself! United we stand, divided we fall! Snug as a bug in a rug! The squeaky wheel gets the grease! And now, since I've run out of vapid clichés, you may arrest me! I am Battyman!

Bless you, Battyman!

You keep this city safe, Battyman!

Where did you get an armor-piercing bazooka?

Where else? On eBay! Then, I left the seller negative feedback! Hoo hoo ha ha haaaaa!!!

Gently! Gently! You'll smear my makeup!

You have the right to remain silent, especially after I knock you unconscious! You have the right to have an attorney present during questioning! If I were you, I'd pick one who's a blood donor match!

Aha! Listen to Battyman's ridiculous growly, gravelly voice! I just figured out his secret identity!

Cookie! Me want cookie!

I always thought it would be sexy, being tied up with the woman I love, on the floor and covered in oil! Turns out it's not so great!

Talk to me, Harvey! Tell me it'll all be okay!

I swear you'll be safe! I know they're coming to save you, darling! Of course, I also think the Backstreet Boys are poised to make a comeback, that we can win in Iraq if we just give it six more months, and that the makers of Lost know exactly where their storyline is headed!

Good, you're awake! Did I ever tell you how I got these scars? I saw You, Me & Dupree and laughed so uncontrollably that I ripped my own face apart! Kate Hudson lights up the screen!

Aaarghhh! You! Your bombs...killed my fiancé! Burned half my face off!

Just think of it as an extreme makeover!

The Jokerster's plot is diabolically simple! Somehow he guessed which two ferryboats to put two bombs on. Each boat has a detonator! But our detonator is connected to the OTHER ship's bomb, and vice versa! Either boat can save itself from being killed by exploding the other boat! However, one group of passengers must trigger its detonator by midnight, or else Jokerster will blow up BOTH boats! That is, unless the Jokerster deliberately provided false information about the detonators, the deadline, or the...

SHUT UPI SHUT UPI! Push the button already! Getting blown to pieces will be a pleasure after all that nonsense!

The Jokerster must be located at any cost! It's illegal and unethical, but I secretly connected your advanced imaging technology to every one of the 20 million cell phones in Gotham City! Each of those phones is now feeding live visual information back into our database! What does it show?

The insides of 20 million ears!

Finally, I've got you roped and tied, with your butt up in the air! I'll bet you're relieved that this is a mainstream action movie and not Brokeback Mountain 2!

Wake up, Battyman! We did the Brokeback Mountain joke 12 panels ago!

I know! But I'm stuck for a gag, and for jokes about OD-ing on illegal prescription drugs, it's still "too soon"!

Heads, your boy lives! Tails, he dies! A flip of my coin will decide!

What about my wife and daughter? Or Battyman? Or myself? Or you?

Okay, have it your way! Let's decide this with a game of Yahtzee!

The public must never learn what Harvey did! There's only one way to cover this up, Mel! Blame his police killings on me!

But wouldn't it be even easier to blame the murders on Jokerster?

Maybe! But this is the best plan I can suggest right now! I just hope my thinking hasn't been too affected by the fact that I just fell four stories and probably have a grade-2 concussion!

Now that you're being hunted by the police, I've whipped up a snazzy cloaking device for your Battymobile! It'll help you escape detection as you drive on your nightly patrols!

Forget it! I can't afford to keep running the Battymobiles anymore, plus the Battycycle, and a Battyplane besides. With current gasoline prices, I'm bankrupt!

Back when the Iraq War started, we couldn't help but notice that the buzzwords and catch phrases emanating from the White House and Pentagon weren't exactly meshing with reality. With the mission already accomplished, we hurriedly assembled a collection of examples and rushed them into print in MAD #438. We wanted to make sure that our article made it to publication before the war ended, Iraq was quiet, and all the troops were already home. As it turned out, we could have taken our sweet time about it. So what's the situation on the ground four years later? The oil might be getting scarce, but the B.S. is flowing just as freely as ever! And so, we present the second of what we never thought would turn out to be a long, long series...

MAD Deconstructs TV Talk Shows

THIS MONTH: COUNTDOWN
WITH KEITH OLBERMAN

8:00 We hear the first words from Keith Olberman: "Which of these stories will you be talking about tomorrow?" Chances are it'll be the same ones a year from now: Countdown usually only DOES one story. Republicans suck—we get it!

8:01 Time for the lead story. If there's one thing that Keith Olberman will not stand for, it's a cheap and twisted allegation against a Democrat. Countdown schedules time for wingnut officials to vilify the newest attacks and provides substantive fact-checking to expose the hypocrisy of the Right. Because at the end of this day, the one thing Keith WILL stand for is a cheap and twisted allegation against the G.O.P.

8:05 To break up the monotony of Olberman's bludgeoning Republicans all day through, the first of Countdown's grandstanding heads gives his view about why the Republicans lost. And what a mess a "bliss-thriller" was! "HNNC" was a disgraced Nixon lieutenant, or a discredited New Yorker reporter. The last one we saw said that his initials were running away from one.

8:11 Olberman moves on to Story #2, which isn't that different from Story #1, it's kind of the diving from Nebraska to Kansas. In that the landscape is so tiny, you're not really sure you've gone anywhere until you spot a road sign. Here, the road sign is a clearly marked "NIX" in the news story citing one of Countdown's ubiquitous puns.

8:16 Keith now lets members of the media give their detailed opinions about how the media gets the details wrong. There are the same talking heads that repeatedly screw up the polling data...they satiated over the way Fred Thompson was going to "shake up" the GOP exec...they wrong their heads waving anxiously for the super-delegates to flip the nomination to Hillary...they even took Rudy Giuliani seriously for Gaff's sake!

And...in the media a self-absorbed and arrogant...tell me what you think, and I'll tell you what I think about what you think...they agreed on the completely!

8:23 Now, Olberman leaves George W. Bush for long in an echo chamber filled with you men and ignoring outside viewpoints. He does this from a rhetorically-voiced intention: to show the audience that the same people who chuckle Keith's teleprompter...

8:28 Keith commiserates something truly monstrous or the discovery of the 5th victim, or Jack Robinson breaking basketball's color barrier. This 30-second monologue is followed by Olberman's one up of the host to current network news producers.

8:30 The world isn't really getting weirder, it's just being outsmarted more. On the today's footage segment called "Odball," a less conservative is good. A panda is better. A less conservative eating a panda is better still. A less conservative murdering a panda is a swingie better than that. Whereas a robot less conservative fighting a robot panda is the death of a Japanese game show is what we all live for. Because after a bland diet of campaign finance reform filings and offshore drilling talking points, viewers need the gleaming sorbitol of a skeleton about going back in a toll booth coin basket.

8:33 Next up is the "Bushin'" segment, the nightly preview of a fresh batch of dispatches every night these punk the Countdown researchers to dig really deep, however...

THIS MONTH: COUNTDOWN

WITH KEITH OLBERMANN

8:40

Olbermann lightens the mood with his "Best Persons in the World" segment, focusing on the mishaps of dumb criminals, drunk criminals, or dumb drunk criminals. (But not the ones who fly on Air Force One.) The final miscreant gets an extra-special reward: their very own ironically-chosen music snippet.

8:48

Rush Limbaugh mocks others. Sean Hannity insults them. Ann Coulter reduces them to simplistic cartoons. There's only one intelligent way to rise above this kind of stupid, hyperbolic Right-Wing rudeness: Call them "The Worst Person in the World!"

8:50

With scathing multisyllabic anger, Keith Olbermann launches into one of his "Special Comments." These extra-long opinion pieces only appear on the rare occasions when Olbermann is sufficiently moved by the maelstrom of political events to scrutinize the particulars for posterity. Or else when Michael Musto cancels and they have to fill time.

8:58

Eight minutes and six sentences later, the "Special Comment" nears its finish. It's the third densest chunk of words on television, after the "express written consent of major league baseball" disclaimer, and the list of disgusting side effects from boner pills.

8:59

In one final explosion of egomaniacal klepto-indulgence, Olbermann steals Ted Koppel's "number of days since..." nightly update, Edward R. Murrow's signoff line AND David Letterman's glass-breaking paper gag.

ANTIQUE SLIDESHOW DEPT.

Recently Bill Clinton said, "You could argue that no one is ever ready to be president." And the former Commander-in-Chief may have a point. But experience couldn't hurt in preparing someone for the Oval Office — and that's where John "Ready to lead from day one" McCain really excels. In fact, as presidential candidate in our nation's history has even come close to sporting the GOP acorn? McCain's lifetime experiences. To give you all the information necessary before you step into that voting booth, NAD presents...

A Look Back AT THE HISTORICAL CAREER of JOHN MCCAIN

ARTIST: SCOTT BRUGHER

ATLANTIC OCEAN

In route to the New World, McCain agreed with his fellow pilgrims that the natives would greet them as liberators.

PHILADELPHIA

In the Declaration of Independence, McCain's grievances with England included the fact that King George III was "the biggest celebrity in the world."

LOUISIANA TERRITORY

McCain's scouting skills were invaluable to the Lewis and Clark expedition.

ANTIETAM, MARYLAND

McCain was always there to remind President Lincoln of the harsh struggle on the Pennsylvania/Georgia border.

1620 1773 1776 1777 1805 1836 1862 1882

BOSTON HARBOR

Before he supported off-shore drilling, McCain had an active hand in off-shore spilling during the Boston Tea Party.

PHILADELPHIA

McCain was the first to ask for Betty Ross' American flag design in pin form.

TEXAS

Remember the Alamo? McCain does. It was there that McCain helped solve America's budding immigration problem.

MAINE

Even in the early days of photography, McCain saw the power of photo-ops with war veterans.

New York

Charles Lindbergh turned down McCain's suggestion to name his plane "The Straight Talk of St. Louis."

New York

McCain has always been a friend of the working man.

1927

1930

1932

1945

Washington, DC

During the Great Depression, McCain had a keen knowledge of the country's economic situation.

Yalta

Even in the dying days of World War II, McCain expressed a willingness to continue fighting the Germans and Japanese for the next 100 years.

AN HOUR LATER...

SO, HOW YOU
LIKING WATER-
eh?!

NOT GREAT,
GUSTAVO, BUT I TELL YA,
IT'S NOT HALF AS BAD
AS ONE OF DYLAN'S
TOILET HEAD-
PLUGGINGS.

WHU?
YEAH, WELL HERE'S ANOTHER DUNK.
YOU LOOK LIKE YOU
COULD USE A BATH.

36 HOURS LATER...

HOW DID YOU LIKE THE

72 HOURS LATER...

WE'VE KEPT
YOU UP FOR THREE STRAIGHT DAYS,
NOW ARE YOU
WILLING TO PLAY
BALL?

HAS IT
BEEN THREE DAYS ALREADY?
REMINDS ME OF LAST

SO I CAN GO?

YES,
GUSTAVO SAYS THE

POSE IS TO PEOPLE'S SANITY.

EXCELLENT.
CATCH YOU GUYS
LATER. BYE,
GUSTAVO.

MONROE, WHAT HAPPENED?

TURNS OUT
THEY COULDN'T
TORTURE ME
AS MUCH AS MY REGULAR LIFE COULD.

I CAN'T BELIEVE THEY THOUGHT I WAS A THREAT.

THEY DON'T REALIZE THAT YOU'VE TAKEN ALL
THAT TORMENT
AND INSTEAD OF UNLEASHING IT
ON THE WORLD...

I BURROW
IT RIGHT
BACK INTO MYSELF.

THAT'S MY MONROE.

SHOULD WE CALL MOM
AND TELL HER
SHE CAN COME HOME?

SURE,
IN A MONTH!
BOYS NIGHT
OUT!

RIGHT. WE'RE CELEBRATING.

GETTING OUT OF PRISON?

AND
SUMMER

GREAT.
THANKS
FOR THAT,
POP.

Maybe it's because of a bad upbringing, a history of drug abuse or trauma of zebra dung in the water supply. Whatever the cause, it's not pretty to watch and has the potential to make entire species burn against each other. Here's what happens...

When Monkeys Go BAD

Uses the disarming custom of grooming others as a diversionary tactic for his pick-pocketing habit.

He shocks the bejabbers out of the Darwinian Research Team by suddenly walking "erect," if you know what we're saying.

Plays a cruel game of "keepaway" with his master.

He pens a best-sell memoir that paints Tarzan in a really bad light.

Practices inappropriate use of the prehensile tail.

Incidents of banana peel-related "accidents" become much more commonplace.

Becomes much more of a "help yourself!" monkey.

Pedals bogus, outdated "Monkeys in Space" information to really stupid rogue governments.

After six months of study, the only sign language he retains is that which he learned from Vito the maintenance guy.

Writes off more than $1,500 a year in his monkey tobacco expenses when, in fact, he's been hoarding. He smokes since 2003.

You know that old story about an unlimited number of monkeys eventually writing a great novel? Well, it happens a lot sooner if you throw a plagiarist in the mix.

The road to the White House is paved with wild accusations and vicious name-calling. The halls of high school also house their share of rumors and taunts, but for some reason, class elections are relatively civil (except, of course, for an occasional pantsing). With all eyes on election coverage this year, the dirty and despicable tactics used in the presidential race are bound to inspire the political hopefuls running for student government. Here's what to expect...

WHEN HIGH SCHOOL ELECTIONS ARE RUN LIKE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS

A candidate preferring Sierra Mist to Mountain Dew will be labeled "an elitist."

The level of a candidate's school spirit will be continually called into question.

A candidate will be severely criticized by his opponent for claiming to support the football team but failing to visit injured players after a big game.

A candidate will question her opponent's ability to handle a 3 P.M. phone call.

A candidate will point out his rival's ties to "special interest groups."

A candidate's love life will be fair game.

The candidate will try to exploit his experience of being tortured as evidence of his strength.

In an effort to bolster his image as an "experienced and respected leader," a candidate will go on a multi-city speaking tour of other high schools.

The older candidate will trumpet his maturity and experience.

Bitter losers from previous campaigns will take cheap pot-shots from the sidelines.
